Examination of the premises Satur-Examination of the premises Saturday morning showed that the lightning had struck the chimney cap, breaking off a small portion, and then passed down the chimney, tearing off some shingles and evidently coming out of the chimney into the Kinney apartment and then passing off presumably between the partition to the cellar, where it grounded. The damage to the building was slight, the only damage aside from that to the chimney age aside from that to the chimney and the roof being the tearing out of some plastering. Frank H. Hickley of Mystic will succeed Wurtum A. Breed of the borough as judge of the town court of Stonington June 1, and at the same time Senator Benjamin H. Hewitt of Mystic will succeed George R. McKenna of Pawcatuck as the prosecuting officer. It is quite probable that Albert G. Martin of Pawcatuck will succeed William J. Gilmore of Stonington as clerk of the court, while L. D. Fairbrother will become the deputy judge, more of an honorary than profitable office. While it is generally conceded that the logical place for the clerkship of the court is in the borough where the court is leaved at the borough the court is in the borough where the court court is in the borough where the court is located, it is understood that it is to be changed for a first time, for ever since the court was created in 1893 the clerk has resided in the borough. Theodore T. Wilcox of the borough is candidate for the clerkship, and has had previous experience, but it is given out that the village of Pawcatuck, the largest voting district in the town, must have recognition for potown, must have recognition for po-litical reasons, and therefore it is probable that Mr. Martin, who has represented in part the town in the legislature, will be appointed to the clerkship.

clerkship.

When this court was created in 1883 the late George D. Stanton, r., was the first judge and L. D. Fairbrother clerk. The latter subsequently served as judge and is the incoming deputy judge. Mr. Fairbrother served as clerk from May 18, 1893, to May 6, 1895, when he was succeeded by James H. Weeks, who served until May 5, 1889, Theodore T. Wilcox succeeding and serving until May 13, 1911. He was succeeded by Edmond A, Potter, who served until June 18, 1913, when the present incumbent, William when the present incumbent, William J. Gilmore, assumed the duties of clerk of the court. So if Mr. Martin is appointed he will be the first person not a resident of the borough to be clerk of the town court.
